

Edwin Cabrera

Edwin Cabrera, has led a diverse career. His pre-conservatory training was at The Manhattan School of Music and his Undergrad/Graduate degree at the Aaron Copland School of Music, in Queens College, where he studied with Loren Glickman. He has been an active freelancer in NY for 35 years, working with orchestras/ensembles such as The Mostly Mozart Festival Winds, Dance Theatre of Harlem, Queens Symphony, the New York Repertoire Orchestra, the Brooklyn Symphony and Brooklyn Philharmonic. Eddie has performed the Mozart and Weber Bassoon concerti with the Brooklyn Symphony, The Doctor's Orchestra and Madrid Music festival in Spain.

In 1994, Eddie changed careers and became a technologist. His career has included the following roles, VP at Morgan Stanley, VP at Deutsche Bank, Associate Director at Skadden Arps and Deputy Program Manager NYC Wireless Program at Northrop Grumman. Edwin is currently the Head of Public Safety in New York for Northrop Grumman, and Manages the ECTP Program, providing technology support for the current 911 system.